Azura® Insulated Jacket | $229

Our first choice for a lightweight all-conditions insulator, the Azura is the go-to layering piece for hikes, cold mornings at the campsite or late-season storm cycles. Lightweight 60g PrimaLoft® Gold Eco insulation offers an unrivaled warmth-to-weight ratio, supreme packability and a softness that mirrors goose down. A 20 denier, 100% recycled polyester outer provides durability and a soft hand, while a PFAS-free DWR finish sheds rain and light precipitation. Handwarmer pockets have comfy, brushed pocket bags, while interior and exterior chest pockets secure essentials.

Azura® Insulated Vest | $179

Whether traversing a razor-edge ridgeline, hiking to a favorite sidecountry stash or layering up for a flight to your next escape, the Azura Vest brings the right dose of core warmth. It's technical, lightweight and filled with PrimaLoft® Gold Eco insulation, selected for its unrivaled warmth-to-weight ratio and 100% recycled materials. A low bulk factor makes it supremely packable, and the shell's soft hand makes it an ultra-comfortable favorite.

Pinion® Down Hooded Jacket | $299

Around town or in the backcountry, this hooded jacket will stick with you in all seasons due to its lightweight packability and layerable warmth. HyperDRY™ 800-fill down delivers trusty warmth for minimal weight that layers easily under a shell or rolls comfortably on its own. A high-collar, halo-adjust storm hood enables clear peripheral vision, while the 100% recycled Pertex® Quantum ripstop exterior sheds moisture with an 80/20 DWR finish and a semi-gloss surface texture. Flat-front hem adjustment and an internal stow pocket streamline it for work or play.

Men's & Women's

Pinion® Down Sweater | $269

Unexpected chills can strike as easily around town as in the mountains, and the lightweight Pinion Down Sweater prepares you for all of them. A wearable year-round insulator with sleek, modern style, the Pinion features a 100% recycled, lightweight and abrasion-resistant Pertex® Quantum ripstop shell that blocks wind and light precip. Responsibly sourced, water repellent, 800-fill HyperDRY™ down stays warm and lofted through mixed conditions. The Pinion offers low-bulk comfort under a harness or over a button-up, and a self-stuffing chest pocket makes it a packable no-brainer in any season.

Pinion® Down Vest | $199

From the Lower Saddle to the local trout stash, the Pinion Down Vest provides reliable core warmth when you need it most. Designed with the unpredictable temps of shoulder season in mind, the Pinion features an outer shell made of lightweight, 100% recycled, abrasion-resistant Pertex® Quantum ripstop that blocks wind and light precip. Responsibly sourced, water-repellent, 800-fill HyperDRY™ down remains lofted even through mixed conditions. The athletic fit is as comfortable in camp as it is stylish around town, and the highly compressible design is perfect for travel or mountain missions.

Fernos® Insulated Hooded Jacket | $299

The Fernos Insulated Hooded Jacket is built for high-output comfort in cold conditions. Stio's PeakFill® Active insulation uses a spiral filament construction for lightweight, breathable warmth with more stretch, faster recovery and quicker drying times than traditional lofted insulation. The Relance™ Primeflex outer sheds weather without sacrificing softness. Stretch panels along the sides and sleeves move with you, and the low-profile hood keeps the elements at bay.

Fernos® Insulated Vest | $199

Winter cardio of all stripes is part of the game for our warm, breathable and uber-aerobic Fernos Vest. The key to its core-warming performance is 40-gram PeakFill® Active Insulation, a highly breathable, quick recovery, spiral filament synthetic fill. Easily compressible, it lofts back promptly when called on for treeline, ridgeline or rest-break warmth. Mechanical stretch and side-seamless construction enhance mobility and reduce layering friction.

Dawner® Hooded Jacket | $249

With mountain performance matched only by its go-all-day comfort, the Dawner is the ideal high-performance, low-profile insulator for any cold-weather pursuits that up your heart rate. The secret? An interior fully lined with silky-soft Octa™ insulation. Constructed in a slightly raised diamond grid pattern that holds in heat while allowing sweat to evaporate, it feels soft on skin and slides smoothly over a tee or baselayer. For dynamic mobility, the durable stretch outer moves with you and allows sweat to escape, with a DWR finish that sheds light precip. It can compress into one of its zippered hand pockets for easy stashing in a running vest or summit pack.

Skycrest® Insulated Snap Shirt | $199

A shoulder-season layering staple, the Skycrest Snap Shirt is a multi-functional piece that provides grab-and-go warmth with distinctive style. Featuring a snap-front quilted design with a shirttail hem, and filled with soft, lightweight 60g Thermore® Ecodown® synthetic insulation, the Skycrest does double duty as an outer jacket or warm overshirt as temps shift between cool and cold. Packable and quick-drying, it's an easy piece to throw on for cool-weather hikes or throwing a few fly casts. Snap-button chest and hand pockets keep your small items secure.

Sweetwater™ Fleece Jacket | $159

If mountain life requires one thing from its devotees, it's adaptability—the savvy to be in the office one minute and on the trail the next. Warm, cozy layers should only add to the experience, and the Sweetwater Jacket does just that—combining the warmth and softness of the recycled sweater-knit fleece you've grown to love with a graceful fit that offers just enough give for ease of movement. A structured self collar provides no-fuss coverage, while a zippered pocket on the upper arm complements the eternally cozy zippered hand pockets.

Glide® Power Stretch™ Half Zip | $149

For mountain trails or a quick gym run, this midlayer delivers unbeatable comfort and versatility. Its ability to unlock the best in both comes from Polartec® Power Stretch™, a dual-surface fabric that swiftly wicks moisture for fast evaporation and wears fleecy soft on skin. The low-friction outer finish creates versatile layering opportunities, whether over a baselayer or under a shell. Brushed tricot inside the collar and chin guard add comfort.
